In consideration for the Climbing Gyms permitting me and/or my child (collectively “me,” “I,” or “my”) to use the Facilities, to participate in the Events and/or to engage in the Activities, I have agreed to execute this Release.

A. I WAIVE AND RELEASE THE RELEASED PARTIES FROM MY DEATH AND ANY INJURY, ILLNESS, LOSS, DAMAGE, EXPENSE, ACTION, CLAIM, AND LIABILITY ARISING OUT OF ANY USE OF THE FACILITIES, THE PARTICIPATION IN ANY OF THE EVENTS, OR THE ENGAGEMENT IN ANY OF THE ACTIVITIES:

I agree to release and discharge the Climbing Gyms and the other Released Parties from liability for my death and any and all past, present, or future injuries, illnesses, losses, damages, expenses, property damage, social losses, economic losses, actions, claims, and liabilities, whether known or unknown, anticipated or unanticipated, suspected or unsuspected, relating to or arising from: (i) the use of any Facility or equipment located at any Facility; (ii) my participation in Events sponsored by or involving any Facility, the Climbing Gyms or any of the other Released Parties; (iii) participation in or observation of the Activities sponsored by or involving any Facility, the Climbing Gyms or any of the other Released Parties; (iv) my interaction with any of the Released Parties; or (v) my placement in the care, custody or control of any of the Released Parties. This Release is intended to release and discharge the Released Parties from any and all losses, damages, expenses, actions, claims and liabilities of any nature whatsoever, such as losses, damages, expenses, actions, claims and liabilities arising from or related to the negligence of, or the breach of any duties which may be owed by, the Released Parties. I understand that this Release prohibits me from filing any lawsuit against any of the Released Parties for any of the reasons identified in this paragraph, now or in the future, and from recovering any losses, damages or expenses against any of the Released Parties.

B. I ASSUME THE RISK OF INJURIES, ILLNESSES, OR DEATH ASSOCIATED WITH THE USE OF THE FACILITIES, THE PARTICIPATION IN ANY OF THE EVENTS, OR THE ENGAGEMENT IN ANY OF THE ACTIVITIES:

I understand that there are significant elements of risk associated with use of the Facility, participation in the Events, and engagement in the Activities that may be sponsored by or otherwise involve the Facilities, the Climbing Gyms or any of the other Released Parties. I recognize that if I encounter these risks, serious injury, illness, or death may result, and I understand that no amount of care, caution, instruction or expertise can eliminate these risks.

I acknowledge that using the Facilities, participating in the Events and engaging in the Activities sponsored by or involving the Facilities, Climbing Gyms or any of the other Released Parties involves certain risks, inherent and otherwise, including the risk of death, illness, or serious personal injury, regardless of whether I follow the Climbing Gyms' safety instructions or recommendations, such as those pertaining to Facility rules and regulations, climbing, bouldering, instructional programs, or involving my choice of equipment to use or whether or not to wear a helmet or any other safety device. TEXAS CLIMBING GYM ORIENTATION

- Climbers must pass the appropriate assessment with Movement staff to use or supervise auto belays, top rope belay, lead climb, or lead belay. Proper credentials must be displayed via provided harness tag.
- Participants are responsible for clipping themselves, or a minor in their care, into rope or auto belay systems.
- Instruction on belaying technique, auto belay use, lead climbing or other climbing equipment use may be provided ONLY by Movement staff.
- SPEAK OUT. If you see conduct or circumstances that might cause harm to a climber or to gym equipment, such as failure to clip into a rope or incorrect belaying, speak up to the climber or tell staff immediately. If you see something, say something!

Auto Belays

- The use of an auto belay does not eliminate the risks of climbing and, in some circumstances, may enhance them. Climbing alone increases risk as participants are solely responsible for their actions and correct use of equipment. Risks include, but are not limited to:
 - Failure to properly attach the auto belay carabiner to the harness resulting in a ground fall including:
 - failure to clip the auto belay carabiner to the correct harness attachment point.
 - failure to ensure the auto belay carabiner is fully closed.
 - failure to remember to attach the auto belay carabiner to the harness and climb with no protection.
 - Entanglement and / or failure of the auto belay line to retract.
 - Failure of the line or carabiner connection to the auto belay.
 - Failure of the auto belay device to brake or slow descent.
 - Taking a swinging fall and striking the wall, a hold or another climber.
 - Landing on or being landed on by a descending climber. Do not stand, sit, walk or climb below other climbers.
- Auto belay Participants under the age of 14 must be supervised by an adult (18 years or older) or by a staff member. The supervising adult must perform a safety check prior to the climber leaving the ground for each climb. This check must be repeated for each climb, regardless of whether the climber has unclipped or not from the last climb.
- Auto belays can only be used by one Participant at a time. Auto belay Participants must range in weight from 25-310 lbs per manufacturer guidelines.
- With each climb:
 - Make sure your harness is properly fitted and secured.
 - Pull down on webbing line to check for proper tension and webbing retraction.
 - Connect the auto belay's carabiner to the belay loop on the harness. Ensure that the carabiner gate is fully closed, and nothing is obstructing the gate.
 - A final inspection of the climber's harness, carabiner and attachment point must be completed by the climber or, in the case of a climber under the age of 14, an adult supervisor. A safety check from a staff member or another oriented adult is recommended.
 - If the auto belay line fails to retract during climbing or you become aware that you failed to clip in properly, stop climbing immediately and request assistance.
 - Always climb underneath the auto belay. Never climb alongside or above the auto belay as a swinging or free fall will occur. Never start your descent from above the auto belay.
 - At the top look down to ensure the landing zone and descent path are free of people and obstructions.
 - Always descend feet first, look below you, and prepare for landing. Once you are done climbing, clip the auto belay carabiner back into the anchor point on the belay gate or wall.

BOULDERING ORIENTATION

- I certify that I will watch the Bouldering Orientation video, confirm that I watched it to a staff member, and ask any questions that I may have prior to participating in any activities. If the participant is a minor, and this agreement is signed by a parent or legal guardian, I as the parent or legal guardian understand that it is my responsibility to review the video and orientation materials and provide the information therein to my child.
- Bouldering (un-roped climbing) is permitted in designated bouldering areas, or no higher than 4 feet (foot height) in areas designated for roped climbing.
- Bouldering involves increased risks because YOU WILL FALL, and all falls are ground falls which could result in injury or death. Padded floors and crash pads (where present) do not and cannot guarantee prevention of injury or death. Improper pad placement or improper pad use can also cause injury or death. Injury is more likely when you fall near or at the top of the wall and / or when you miss the crash pad or hit an edge of a crash pad.
- To reduce your risk of injury:
 - Down climb when possible instead of jumping off.
 - Before each climb, position crash pads (where present) so that you will land in the middle of the pad.
 - Use a spotter to help position crash pads (where present) and promote a clear landing zone.
- Keep Landing Zones Clear: Do not lounge on pads or walk under climbers. Remove all personal items (like water bottles) from landing zones. Be aware at all times because you could land on or be landed on by other participants.
- Proper Falling Technique Can Reduce Injuries:
 - First, upon falling from the wall, spot your landing.
 - Second, stay relaxed and bend your knees and elbows.
 - Next, pull in your arms. Avoid extending your arms to reach for the floor.
 - Lastly, as you land, absorb the impact with your legs bent and roll to the ground.
- Ratings: Boulder problems are rated using the V-Scale (V-Intro, V0, V1, V2, V3, etc) with V-Intro being the easiest. At some locations, "V" scale grades are identified by hold or tag color.
- Top-Out Bouldering: Top out bouldering is permitted in designated areas only. It involves summiting a bouldering wall then proceeding to the designated down climbing area. Use designated descent paths / ladders only and descend slowly and carefully. Topping out increases risk.
- New Climbers: Those who are new to bouldering should start with easier problems (V-Intro) and avoid climbing the full height of the wall until they are more comfortable with climbing, down climbing, proper falling technique, and how to utilize crash pads (where present).
- While Movement takes substantial measures to mitigate the risks of Bouldering, all risks cannot be eliminated. Risks of injury and death are present even when you and Movement take all available safety measures.

FACILITY ORIENTATION

- All climbers and observers must check in at the front desk before proceeding into the facility.
- Climbing is dangerous and there are inherent risks. Participants and observers must assume the risks of climbing and entering the facility. All climbers, participants, observers, individuals operating a safety system, and anyone proceeding past the check in area must sign (or their parent/guardian must sign) the Waiver, Release of Liability and Assumption of Risks form.
- Double check your partner's safety system (Knots / Harness / Carabiners / Belay Device) before every climb! Staff reserves the right to check safety systems at any time. Individuals who choose to bring and use their own equipment must assume and accept all responsibility for the proper selection, use, care, inspection, and maintenance of that equipment.
- Individuals desiring to top rope belay, lead belay, or lead climb must be at least 13 years of age and pass the corresponding Belay Check. Those individuals who do not pass or choose to not take the Belay Check may not belay or tie knots and must wait a minimum of 24 hours before taking or re-taking the Belay Check. Individuals who have passed the Lead Climb Check may borrow a lead rope at the front desk (where available), or use a personal rope provided it's a single UIAA approved rope at least 40 meters in length. Staff reserves the right to revoke belay privileges at any time. Limited exceptions to the age requirement are made for climbing team members.
- Weight differences between the climber and the belayer can greatly impact the safety of both individuals.
- All persons using the facility are expected to respect other individuals and conduct themselves in good order. Participation in climbing or fitness activities while under the influence of drugs or alcohol is not permitted. Persons deemed by staff to be behaving in an unsafe or disorderly fashion will be asked to leave the facility. I understand that staff are not responsible for enforcing any rules in the facility.
- Youth: Youth climbers under the age of 13 must be supervised by an adult (18 years or older) or by a staff member. Youth under the age of 13 are not permitted in fitness areas. Parents and caregivers are responsible for the supervision of their children. Limited exceptions to the fitness area age requirement are made for climbing team members. Additional age restrictions and exceptions may apply by activity, program, or Facility.
